SQUATCAGE

G703

Our BodyKore foundation series G703 is a full cage with all the bells and whistles. With this equipment, you can achieve a variety of exercises such as deadlifts, chin ups, squats, pull ups, and countless more. This machine allows you to lift heavy amounts from a safe position. The unique features of this cage offer many positioning options so you can train numerous muscles. This flexibility helps you strengthen your lower and upper body.

The squat cage has a durable frame built with 3"x3" steel tubing. This base can support heavy weighted and diverse exercises. Muscle groups throughout the entire body can be trained with the cages' different features, which include a multi-grip pull up bar, Dip Bar, Band Pegs, and dual land mines. Additionally, the G703 has 17 mounting slots for the J hooks and spotters so users of all sizes can properly workout. The foundation series squat cage can adapt and enhance any of your exercises.
